SCOTT ADAMS, Director of the Office of Business Development, explained that this item was requested by World Market Center for its refinancing of Phase II of World Market Center. The

REDEVELOPMENT AGENCY MEETING OF: OCTOBER 4, 2006

Agency members previously approved estoppel certificates and refinancing for World Market Center. The estoppel certificate attests that the owner participation agreement (OPA) the City has with World Market Center is in full force and effect, that there are no events that would create a default situation under the OPA and that all the obligations under the agreement have been completed.

Business Development staff is taking this very seriously and has ascertained that all required documents have been submitted. Therefore, staff recommends approval. The developer has met with the respective Agency representative.

MEMBER WEEKLY thanked all parties involved in this project for being cooperative in discussions about employment opportunities, especially for minorities.

TOM McGOWAN, Las Vegas resident, questioned the specific reason for the estoppel, to which MR. ADAMS answered that lending institutions must verify that any agreements with other entities will not jeopardize their loan.

MR. McGOWAN then asked when the Market is going to be open to the public. MEMBER WEEKLY indicated that the World Market Center has been very open to tour groups. MEMBER TARKANIAN rejoined that a tour has to be arranged with the manager.
